BERRY BOXES OF LOCAL FACTORY

H. C. Smith, state dairy and food commissioner, and T. L. Irvine, state dealer of weights and measures, are in Ogden conferring with E. C. Olson, the only manufacturer in Utah of strawberry boxes, respecting the state law providing for uniformity in size of strawberry cups. Mr. Olson has quite a large supply of boxes of last year of 14-ounce capacity and an effort will be made by the state commissioners to aid him in getting rid of the stock without heavy loss.
It was said today by the state officials that, while the law requires that there shall be absolute uniformity of size in the berry cups of this year, the pint cup to contain 10 1/2 ounces and the quart to hold 21 ounces, they thought it would be possible to permit the use of the 14-ounce cups, now in stock, to be used in the distribution of berries to canning factories and restaurants. Such cups will not be permitted to go on the open market, however.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Irvine were pleased to say that the cups made by the Ogden manufacturer are among the best. Mr. Olson's factory is on west Thirty-first street.

HEAVY FROST BRINGS GREAT LOSS TO FARMERS

Reports from various districts indicate that Weber county and other parts of northern Utah were hard hit last night by frost, and that damage to orchards and gardens was heavy.
The temperature in the city fell to 26 degrees above zero and it was about the same north and south of the city to the border lines of Weber county.

The crops that suffered most were strawberries, cherries and other small fruits and cabbage, beans, corn, beets, tomatoes, cucumbers and newly planted peas in the garden division. It is said that cabbage and string beans have been destroyed in certain sections and that strawberries fared badly in many parts of the county. There were comparatively few acres of tomatoes in the ground, but in most places where the trans-planting had been done, resetting will be necessary.

In Plain City, North Ogden and Harrisville ice froze from an inch to two inches thick. Even alfalfa fields were considerably damaged.

In the Plain City district sugar beets were drooping and the crop was given a pretty heavy setback.

A farmer from the Burch Creek district said that much of the garden stuff had been frosted and grapes and other small fruits had suffered.
The report also comes from Bear River valley that the frost hit the apple orchards so hard that the loss can hardly be estimated at this time.
The apple trees were in such a stage of blossoming that the extreme cold robbed them of a great deal of fruit.
In some parts of the valley, however, it is claimed there will be a good crop.

GOOD PANTAGES

BILL TONIGHT

The new Pantages vaudeville bill opens today at the Orpheum instead of Thursday, owing to the road show.
"The Unchastened Woman," playing Thursday night. The vaudeville bill is a happy-go-lucky bill full of fun many laughs, singing and a number of pretty girls. There are two big feature acts on this bill. "The Boarding School Girls" is a musical comedy. The girls are all pretty and wear the most fetching pajamas and boudoir caps and cunning slippers.
There is a man in the case and the ever-present prim school principal.
Cook and Rothert are two timber fellows who do some unusual acrobatic turns and sing.

The Zion trio, comprising Nellie Hasbrouck, Pearl Larson and Alva Woodward, makes a splendid appearance and sing delightfully.
Reed and Wood are one of the best numbers on the bill. Reed is a big basso with a voice that goes clear down to his shoes. He has plenty of ginger, and not the preserved variety, either. Miss Wood is pretty, sings well, dances gracefully, plays the piano exceptionally well and wears some adorable frocks and coats.

Belle Barchus and company in "An Inside Job" hold the attention with their comedy playlet that turns out well for Mullie just at the psychological moment. Belle Barchus plays the part of Mollie, the maid, with much histrionic ability.

The last chapter of "The Girl and the Game," the thrilling photoplay which has been running for many weeks, ends with death to the villains and happiness for the hero. There is a scene in which an auto is turned into kindling by a train that causes many audible "Oh!" and the picture is so realistic one can almost hear the crash. Until Saturday night this programme will be the drawing card at the Pantages.—Advertisement.

EMILY STEVENS GREAT ACTRESS

The Salt Lake Herald-Republican has this to say of "The Unchastened Woman," which appears at the Orpheum theatre tomorrow night: Something unusual is Louis K. Anspacher's comedy "The Unchastened Woman," which came to the Salt Lake theatre last night to remain until tomorrow night, with matinee tomorow. Perhaps the most unusual thing about it is that it is so consistent that the audience on leaving is not quite sure that it is really a comedy.
Yet comedy it is. The unchastened woman is chastened at last, can well be left with a husband over whom she has lost the "whip hand." Such unhappiness as there is in the ending is due to the fact that Mr. Anspacher has refused to bring some "god from the machine" to make people who have "pasts" that prove their weakness fail to pay for their folly that price which the laws of real life as well as dramatic justice demand.
The title role is taken by Emily Stevens, whose art lends to the keen lines given to her just the required

DANISH WEST INDIES, COVETED BY GERMANY AND HITHERTO SPURNED BY UNCLE SAM, MAY SOON BE AMERICAN COLONIES

The strategic position of the Danish West Indies; insert, Constantin Brun.

President Wilson practically has concluded negotiations for the purchase of the Danish West Indies at a tentative price of $5,000,000, according to well-founded reports. A treaty between Denmark and the United States providing for the transfer of the little islands in the Antilles has been drafted by Secretary of State Lansing and Constantin Brun, the Danish minister here. The islands are coveted by Germany. Negotiations for the purchase of the islands by the United States have been made twice before, but in both instances the U. S. senate refused to ratify the proposal.

amount of inflection to carry them across the footlights in most telling manner. Oliver Morosco has again proved his ability to select the right player for the part when he chose Miss Stevens. And he met with similar success in selecting most of the others of the eight in the cast. Strong emotional work is required of Emille Polini as Mrs. Sanbury, and she occupies a place in two or three tense scenes on the stage that can hardly be classed as second to that of Miss Stevens. It brings more gallery applause. Miss Jennie Lamont has a character sketch in the Irish charwoman that is a gem. Miss Isabel Richards acts the society girl foil to Mrs. Knollys, and Miss Ruth Rose, as the one-time mistress of Hubert Knollys, now returned to the straight path, has comparatively few lines but puts into them all the tensely that they demand.

MINISTERS OF THE CITY IN A PROTEST

The Ogden Ministerial association in a communication to the city fathers stated that improper pictures are being placed on billboards in the city and their reputed realities placed on exhibition in theatres. The ministers urge the commissioners to take steps to curtail such practice, stating that the present street carnival in the city is the occasion for immediate action.

The question was referred to the superintendent of public safety, Mayor A. R. Heywood.

DE WOLF HOPPER SHOWS MID-SEASON FORM IN PRACTICING "CASEY AT BAT"

De Wolf Hopper as "Casey."

De Wolf Hopper, soon to appear in a film version of the immortal "Casey at the Bat," is shown here in the character of that extraordinary ball player. Mr. Hopper in posing for the picture found such pleasure in the baseball scenes that he could hardly be persuaded to drop the ball and go on with the other work.

TESTIMONIAL TO CHAS. C. RICHARDS

Charles C. Richards, who for a number of years has been a member of the presidency of the Ogden Stake, will be honored by the workers of that Stake tomorrow evening at the Weber Academy. The testimonial will start at 7:45 p.m. and will consist of a short program, the serving of refreshments and dancing.
The program will consist of short talks by Thos. Clarke, T. C. Hoyt, Pres. Thos. B. Evans, Chas. C. Richards and David O. McKay. Special musical numbers will be furnished by Mrs. R. B. Porter, Mr. Marcellus Smith, Miss Mary Fished, Miss Ruth Groesbeck and Wm. S. Wright.
All those who have served either as stake or local workers under the administration of President Richards are invited to be present.

CAMPBELL SHOWS ON 27TH STREET

It was an animated night scene last night as the circus moved off and the carnival moved on to the Twenty-seventh street show grounds and today the Campbell United Shows, which for the past two days have been strewn over vacant lots on Hudson avenue and elsewhere, have been assembled and present a strikingly pretty appearance with its scores of multi-colored tents, its odd and picturesque miniature streets, its big riding devices and many amusement contrivances. It is a big affair, bigger perhaps than any like organization ever seen in Ogden.

Everything is now in complete readiness for the inaugural performance tonight and when the band plays, the big tree acts presented the festivities will be on and will continue each afternoon and night during the week.

DEBATING TEAM OF WEBER ACADEMY

Leland Evans, Ben Young, Ernest Wilkinson and Franklin Richards of the Weber academy, debating champions of the Northern division in the state high school league, will go to Salt Lake this evening to enter the elimination contests of the state championship. They will debate tonight against the Park City teams, taking the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved—That the United States abandon the Monroe Doctrine."

The debaters will be accompanied of the Weber academy public speaking to Salt Lake by T. Earl Pardoe, head department.
